ITALIAN PORPHYRY

NATURAL STONE PAVING

PORPHYRY

Porphyry stone has captured the hearts of enthusiasts worldwide for generations. From gracing some of the most iconic architectural marvels to adorning the streets of countless European cities, its versatility knows no bounds. As Porphyry stone is incredibly hard wearing and durable, making it ideal for any outdoor paving project. Its textured surface ensures that it provides an effective non-slip surface when used around swimming pools but is also durable to make it suitable for use on driveways and other applications that see regular vehicular traffic. Porphyry is also an ideal option for commercial applications where safety and durability are paramount.
